Just 5 questions

Ketan Karani

VP research, Kotak Securities

■ Where do you see the market heading?

Our outlook on the economy is positive. In the next two months, we might see the market hitting the 16500-17000 levels.

■ Is this a good time to buy gold?

We believe equity might give better returns.

■ How will the softening of commodity prices affect equity markets?

It will certainly have a positive effect on the growth dynamics of the economy. The impact on the equity markets will be positive as well.

■ What do you attribute the fall in oil prices to?

The unwinding of speculation that had built up, along with the demand destruction and the possibility of an increase in the supply.

■ Is the lower industrial output growth as compared to 2006 and initial parts of 2007 a cause for worry?

Global growth has been slowing down and our growth rates are in sync with others. We have seen six years of boom and this is merely a passing phase that we need to get through.
